Carmel Little League Play Opens On Saturday

With all six Carmel Little League teams ready for action, the popular baseball circuit gets underway Saturday morning with an imposing ceremony preceding the opening game. Pre-game action will feature presentation of trophies for last year's winners in both the Little League and the Farm Team League. For the House That Jack Built, Don Sands will award a permanent trophy to Art Carpenter's Pilot Market, 1960 Little League Champions. Francis Sparolini will honor the Little Sparrows with a handsome trophy designating them the 1960 Farm League Champs.

Following the awards, the Carmel Youth Center Board president, P. A. McCreery, will toe the pitching slab and cast the first ball toward the plate. Waiting for a pitch which he hopes will be down the middle, will be Mayor Frank Putnam. Hanging loose behind the plate will be Sergeant Del Wer-muth who will do his best to catch Flag Raising On Fremont Peak Sun.

The raising of the flag on Fremont Peak in San Benito County by General John C. Fremont in 1846 will be commemorated again this year on Sunday. It will be the 55th consecutive celebration.

The peak is part of Fremont Peak State Park, a few miles from San Juan Bautista.

The program begins at 11:00 in the morning and shortly there-

Remember the $150,000 bond for the completion of the high school you voted for in March, 1941? It runs out May 1, and three cents comes off your tax bill.

How big, round and fat the dollar was then! This is what $150,000 bought:

Gymnasium, $60,000; music-cafeteria building, $22,000; shop, $20,000; two classrooms, $12,000 each; tennis courts, $4,000; equipment, $5,000; pedestrian tunnel under the highway, $2,000; the remainder for architect and other fees. The underpass was never built because later the board decided that it would offer "a morals hazard."

The late Zenas Potter was chairman of the bond committee; Sheld-burn Robison was school board chairman. The election board

Carmel Library Is Austin James' Principal Legatee

Raymond Austin James, a sculptor who had resided here for 50 years, died on Friday in his home at Portola and Alva Roads in Pebble Beach after a short illness.

He called the Harrison Memorial Library his "second home" and through the years a host of library patrons frequently encountering him there, regarded the dapper man with the dancing eyes, friendly smile and immaculate white goatee against the rosy, un-wrinkled skin as an acquaintance, though some may not have known his name.

But they will benefit now because Austin James has revealed the depth of his affection for the library by making it the "main legatee" of his estate which is "very substantial" according to Barnet Segal, his executor. How "substantial" Mr. Segal cannot say since he and his attorney, William Cullinan, have not completed the inventory and the will has not yet been filed.

Mr. James was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on March 12, 1885. In 1889 he moved with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay James, to Detroit. In this city he visited art museums during his youth and attributed the fact that he later became a sculptor to the admiration for Greek sculpture which he developed at this period of his life.

He was educated in Detroit schools then worked with firms in Detroit, Buffalo and New York as a machinery and structural steel designer. He visited California several times during this period. In 1911 he moved here permanently and bought land in Pebble Beach and Carmel. He built a home in Pebble Beach and his

Planners Split On Recreational Zoning For Forest Theater

Planning commissioners split 4-3 in favor of zoning the Forest Theater as a recreational area yesterday afternoon. Chairman Blanks, Commissioners Florence Josselyn and Fred Keeble voted against a P-2 recreational park recommendation for the city-owned property. Commissioners George Willox, John B. Martin, Dorothy von Meier and Hugh Smith cast aye votes.

The split came over an area set aside to remain forever natural some years ago by both the planning commission and the city council at the instigation of Donald Craig. Commissioners Blanks, Josselyn and Keeble were in favor of zoning to preserve the stand of indigenous flowers located in the part of the Forest Theatre property enclosed by the junction of Guadalupe and Mountain View Streets.

"This is the only place where such growth is left in Carmel," Chairman Blanks stated.

Mr. Keeble in supporting this stand, remarked that the Forest Theater site "is too important

My Experiences On Stage

Editor's Note: We have known J. William MacLennan as former dean of men and head of the history department at Santa Barbara State College, director of Santa Barbara Art School, president of the Santa Barbara Art Association and an expert on early California history, as our readers know from several excellent articles on the subject which he has written for the Pine Cone. Last week he told us that ever since he read in the Pine Cone Edward Kuster's recollections of the theater and his association with it in Carmel, he has been struggling against the impulse to write the history of his experiences with the amateur stage, and its early manifestations in Santa Barbara. Here it is, the account of still another interest of a man of many interests and talents.

BY J. WILLIAM MACLENNAN

My first appearance on the stage was not at all to my liking. I was a Brownie in a Sunday-school production. I was then about five years old. When the curtains opened I crawled out of a barrel to speak my piece. My brownie cap was all right, but I knew and everyone else knew immediately that the rest of my costume was someone's red winter underwear.

My unhappiness on that occasion might have ended my interest in the stage had I not been given an important part in another Sunday-school production; a musical called, Darby and Joan. I remember leading the cast in singing, Grandpa's eighty years today, Let's sing and play the hours away, Come join our glad refrain."

I don't remember the details of other Sunday-school plays in which I took part. Aside from them, I made no further public appearances, except for "speaking pieces" in my classrooms, until I was graduated from the Lowell Gram-

Radio Stations Dead In CD Defense Exercise Tomorrow Afternoon

Carmel will take part in a nationwide training exercise tomorrow and Saturday, according to Walter S. Mansfield, administrative officer for the Monterey County Civil Defense Organization.

the tricky stuff offered by pitcher McCreery. After the Colors are presented by the Color Guard from the Naval Air Facility of Monterey, the umpires will give the go-ahead signal and another Little League season will be launched.

The opening game at 11:30 matches Pilot Market, last year's winners, with the San Carlos Realty, the 1959 Champion. Art Carpenter and Floyd Carter manage the grocers, while the realtors are under the direction of Jack Miller and Francis Sparolini. Pitching choices will likely be Ron Parsons and Terry Mosolf for Pilots, and Jim Sparolini and Larry Little for San Carlos.

Saturday's second tilt is for 1:30 and "brings together Boys' Town and Wilder & Jones. Jack Cate and Skip Kinnion handle the strategy for the plumbers, with Newt Goodrich and Dick Rohr pulling the strings for Boys' Town. Gerald Pullen and Erk Danysh are likely pitching choices for the clothiers, while the plumbers have a veteran pair in Ed Kawanakoa and Hart Silverie.

At 3:30, Sport Shop and Turner and McEldowney take over. The Sports are guided by Clayton Neill Jr. and Gerald Artellan, and T&M listens to the advice of Jim Kelsey and Harry Turner. Mel Grimes and Gary Kearns are seasoned Little League pitchers for the Sport Shop, with Brian McEldowney most likely to get the call for the bricklayers.

Monday evening, the Little League settles down to the regular 6:00 o'clock starting time as Wilder & Jones crosses bats with the Sport Shop. Tuesday's fare brings together Pilot Market and Turner & McEldowney, and the Wednesday's action matches Sport Shop with San Carlos Realty.

PACIFIC GROVE CLIPS

CARMEL NINE, 5 TO 1

Inability to hit in the pinches betrayed Carmel High's varsity baseball team at Pacific Grove Tuesday afternoon as it attempted to upset the high-flying Breakers. The league-leading PG nine got the same number of hits as the Padres but put them together where they were most needed. Carmel's light-hitting crew combed the Breaker pitching for six hits but left 13 runners stranded on the bases.

Bob Fuller and Jim Plowman teamed up to pitch the win for the Breakers while big Chris Wilkin, Jim Brown, and Forrest Cornwall each took turns trying to turn back the PG power.

Dennis Hunt, Pacific Grove second-baseman, was the top sticker in the game, stroking a pair of singles and driving in three runs. Bud Cunningham, Padre first-sacker, also picked up two safe hits in three trips to the plate.

Carmel's junior-varsity travelled to King City for a league joust and topped the unbeaten Ponies, 16 to 7. This was the first league game for the Little Padres and gives them a good start in the jayvee circuit.

Bob Holmes pitched the win for the Carmel Babes, giving up five hits over the seven-inning route. The husky righthander showed good stuff in his first pitching stint but seven free passes and four hit batters kept him in hot water during most of the tilt. Jack DeWitt, Dennis Clark, and Tim Mosolf topped the Carmel batters, each garnering three blows in four-trips to the plate.

Next action for the junior-varsity is slated for Morgan Hill this afternoon where they clash with the Live Oak jayvees in a 4:30 league tussle. The Live Oak and Carmel varsities play a league game at the Carmel diamond tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

HANSSENS' PIGEON WINS

The Carmel-Monterey-Seaside Racing Pigeon Club held their third race of the Old Bird Series on Sunday from Sparks, Nevada, a distance of approximately 230 air miles. This race was scheduled to be flown from Fernly, Nevada, but due to unfavorable weather conditions, the birds were released at 8:45 a.m. at Sparks in clear, calm weather. Following are the results in yards per minute: M. Hanssens, Carmel Valley, 1046.643; J. Scott, Carmel Valley, 1045.340; E. Barry, Monterey, 1043.476; J. Scott, Carmel Valley, 1042.903; G. Artellan, Carmel Highlands, 1039.541; E. Anderson, Del Rey Oaks, 1037.819; Mack & Son, Salinas, 1030.314; C. Souza, Seaside, 1027.355; L. Richards, Marina, 1026.478; H. Jones, Seaside, 1021.997; J. Barbier, Salinas, 1007.271; Sykes & Son, Salinas, 797.802.

The next race will be flown Sunday April 30, from Lovelock, Nevada.

LAGUNA SECA RACES SET FOR JUNE 10-11

The world's finest sports cars return to Monterey June 10-11 for the Laguna Seca Invitational, northern California's first Pacific Coast championship point race of the year, it was announced today by L. M. "Sparky" Pollard, president of the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAMP).

Probable entries include Chuck Sargent's Maserati Birdcage, Chuck Howard piloting a Lister Jag, San Francisco's Dave Ride-nour in a Costin Lister and some of southern California's most powerful modified cars.

DOG TRAINING CLASSES START SUNDAY

Training classes, sponsored by the Del Monte Kennel Club, will be held at the Carmel High School on the next four Sundays, April 30, May 7, May 14, and May 21. Ted Ziel of Monterey will conduct the classes at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon in order to prepare both the dog and the exhibitor in ring manners. All novice exhibitors who plan on showing their dogs at the Del Monte Dog Show at Del Monte Lodge on May 28 are urged to attend these classes.

Mrs. Derek Rayne, Bench Show Chairman, reports that entry blanks for the Del Monte Dog Show will be available next week, and can be picked up at the offices of any veterinarian, boarding kennel or pet shop.

Specialty shows this year will include the following breeds: German Shorthaired Pointers, Whippets, Doberman Pinschers, Standard Schnauzers, and Pembroke Welsh Corgis.

Art On The Peninsula

The board of directors of the Carmel Art Association will entertain at a cocktail-buffet party at the Association galleries on Saturday evening from 5:30-8:00 o'clock. Guests will be active and associate members of the association.

Brigadier General Frank Dorn is head of the entertainment committee. He will be assisted by Colonel Mason Wright, Mrs. Douglas MacGregor, Mrs. Robert Aurner, Leslie Emery, Mrs. Gustav Erbe and Charles Thomas, association president.

The Artists Guild of America, Inc. has sent out invitations for a preview of the one-man exhibition of oil paintings by Andrew Do Bos. The party will be held on Saturday afternoon, 3:00-6:00 o'clock in the Guild galleries, Monte Verde Street and Ocean Avenue. There is also an entrance to the galleries from the Court of the Golden Bough.

Mr. Do Bos' work will be displayed for the public at the Artists Guild of America, Inc. through May.

The first comprehensive public show of paintings by Marjorie Allen of Carmel Highlands will open tomorrow at the Galerie de Tours, Lincoln below Ocean. Hours will be noon until 5:00 o'clock each afternoon except Wednesday. Scope of the exhibition will range from landscapes through fantasies, to sculpture.

Miss Allen was born and educated in Swampscott, Massachusetts. She studied anatomy and sculpture with Clarence Johnson, then enrolled at the Boston Museum School of Fine Art and did postgraduate work at the Fogg Museum, Harvard University.

While living in Hartford, Connecticut, she was commissioned to execute a bronze sphinx sculpture for the Shrine order. It is a traveling award that circulates about the world among Shrine temples.

Her paintings are in the permanent collection of the Joslyn Art Museum, Omaha, Nebraska, and in private collections throughout the country. She is a member of the Boston Society of Arts and Crafts and the Carmel Art Association.

Italian Painting II, High Renaissance to Baroque, will be the subject of a slide lecture tonight sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Chapter of American Federation of Arts at the Carmel Art Association Galleries. Mr. Charles Thomas will give the narration for the 40 Italian painting slides prepared by the Fine Arts Department of New York University. Admission is free to A.F.A. members, 50 cents to non-members according to Mrs. Joseph Feuerborn, chairman of the A.F.A. lecture series.

Portraits by Royal Stowell will be shown at Carmel Foundation Town House during the month of May, Mondays through Fridays, 10:00 o'clock in the morning until 5:00 in the afternoon. The show will open on Tuesday.

The small room at Town House will be used for the display of informal portraits and the living room for more formal studies.

A graduate of Pratt Institute, Cooper Union and the Art Students' League, Royal Stowell was one of the organizers of the League of American Artists and later curator of the Vanderbilt paintings at Biltmore, North Carolina.

His portrait subjects range through presidents, governors and opera stars, to southern belles and studies of children and their pets. Oils and drawings are included in the exhibition.

The exhibition of paintings by Abel Warshawsky at the Laky Galleries, San Carlos between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, will remain on exhibition during May.

Paintings by the late Frank H. Myers will remain on display at the Monterey Peninsula College Library gallery until May 7.

Tryouts Sunday For Musical To Reopen Studio Theatre

The Studio Theatre in Carmel, which has been inactive since the close of its season last September, will hold annual tryouts for casting forthcoming summer musical comedy productions on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

This will start the theatre's fourth season, with the summer's first production opening on June 30. Producers Betty Hackett and Royden Martin in past seasons have presented Jerry De Bono's musical comedy revues, 8 and Run and Whoops!, George Gershwin's Oh, Kay!, Cole Porter's Out of This World and Jerome Kern's Leave It To Jane.

The tryouts for musical comedy talent on Sunday afternoon will be for Once Upon A Mattress, Best Foot Forward, and a musical comedy revue. Jerry De Bono will be returning to the Peninsula to direct The Studio's productions. Male and female roles in both Once Upon A Mattress and the musical revue are to be cast. Boys and girls between ages 12-17 are especially needed to fill roles in Best Foot Forward.

The Studio Theatre is located on Dolores Street between Ocean Avenue and 7th in Carmel.

DON QUIXOTE AT MPC TONIGHT

Don Quixote, a British screen version of Cervantes' great classic will be shown tomorrow evening, 8:00 o'clock, by the Monterey Peninsula College Theater Arts Group.

The lavishly mounted, beautifully photographed film will be shown in the college armory on campus. The public, according to the MPC Evening Division, sponsor of the series, is invited to attend without charge.

Tevya Closes Sunday, Sleeping Prince Next Circle Theatre Play

Sholom Aleichem's rough-hewn folk-comedy, Tevya and his Daughters, closes its six-week run at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre on Sunday evening, to make way for one of the most ornate and elegant of recent British comedies, The Sleeping Prince. Written as a show-piece for Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh in the coronation year of 1933, The Sleeping Prince was produced in New York, where it starred Michael Redgrave and Barbara Bel Geddes, and later as a film, in which Marilyn Monroe achieved her dream of playing opposite the great Olivier.

Author of the newest Circle play is Terence Rattigan, whose Separate Tables broke attendance records at the Golden Bough two years ago. He had previously been represented here by The Winslow Boy and The Deep Blue Sea, both heavy dramas, but in The Sleeping Prince he shows once more the skilful comic touch which made his French Without Tears and O Mistress Mine such great international hits.

Rattigan's airy confection is being staged arena-style by Frederick Rider, and will play every Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening through June 11.

LENOIR HOSACK SINGS AT MPC TOMORROW

Mezzo soprano Lenoir Hosack, who will be remembered here as "Dan" Lenoir Hosack, will return to the Peninsula tomorrow to sing at Monterey Peninsula College.

Her concert, for which arrangements have been made by Miss Angie Machado of the MPC music department, will begin at 8:30 o'clock in the library lecture hall. The public is invited without charge.

Formerly a resident of Pacific Grove and a soloist with the Carmel Bach Festival for three consecutive years, Miss Hosack now lives in San Francisco. However, she travels throughout California as soloist with symphonies, in oratorio groups and in opera ranging from Mozart to the most difficult of contemporary works.

Since leaving the Peninsula, she has been chosen by Darius Milhaud to sing in two of his works for voice and orchestra; has sung in Stern Grove with Jorda and the San Francisco Symphony; has been a featured artist on San Francisco State College's programs for its various summer school campuses; has received a standing ovation for her performance of the difficult sprechstimme role in Arnold Schonberg's Pierret Lamaire conducted by Pierre Bellugi. She has also appeared with the Company of the Golden Hind, Sacramento Symphony, and in Stockton, Fresno and Oakland.

ALL SAINTS' CRADLE ROCKING MAY 11

The annual cradle rocking at All Saints' Episcopal Church will take place at the 9:15 o'clock Family Service on May 14. Babies of the parish will be welcomed and introduced to the Church Family by being placed in a cradle and rocked by chosen sponsors from the Sunday School.

The cradle which will be used has been made especially for the observance by Bill A. Sanford. It is a copy of an antique cradle belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Graham in which generations of the Graham family have been rocked for over 150 years.

The primary department of All Saints' extends an invitation to all service families and other families on the Peninsula who would like to bring babies and participate in the cradle rocking service.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. John Rennels, MA 4-2201, or Mrs. Russell Townsend, MA 4-8456, or at the All Saints' parish office.

In Carmel They All But Vote

Dr. Howard Feder, instructor in marine biology at Hartnell College, believes he's about to discover a new kind of wild dove in his area of the Carmel Woods.

Early each weekday morning he hikes half a mile down through the pines from his home on upper San Luis Road to catch his ride. During these "leisurely" walks, he says, he's constantly amazed and delighted by nature's wild abundance of new flowers, animal life, and most particularly by the birds he sees and hears.

Quail and pigeons, of course, abound. But there is one bird song that is new to him, he reports. It is a high-pitch call, similar to, but not, a pigeon cry. This he thinks might be the call of a new wild dove.

The story might end there except that someone gave Hartnell a hydrocone some years ago. Finding it in the attic of the college last year Dr. Feder has finally got it working picking up under-water sounds.

"It's a pretty sensitive instrument," he explains, "I'm thinking of bringing it home, stepping up its sound a little, and then by using a tape recorder, I hope to maybe capture that high-pitch dove-like call, so that someone like Laidlaw Williams in the Highlands can identify it once and for all."

Putzi, Rose Brown's handsome Briand, has lost her playmate. Last week the miniature poodle got in the way of a car. Rose is doing her best. On May 1 she will introduce to Putzi another miniature, a brown poodle whom she has already named Mister Brown.

Tess (short for Comtessa) is the small black and tan Lakeland Terrier who literally holds down the fort for Jane Hexter of the Central Box Office, next door to the Carmel Art Gallery.

A Lakeland terrier is rare to these parts. Looking much like a Welsh Terrier in size and color, Tess is 15 months old now and greets Jane's customers from her office play pen. Her office manner, says Jane, is gracious and fastidious—in contrast to her "watch dog" behavior at the Hexter home where Tess not only has Jane to guard but a family of cats: Suzie, the momma cat, the kitten Beulah, and Smoggie, the grey tiger with the green eyes. Tess adopted both older cats when they were left as scrawny foundlings at the Central Box Office.

If you meander in the vicinity of Dolores and Sixth and happen to see a handsome, standard black poodle make an Olympic star leap through an open window into a professional looking car, don't be alarmed. It will be Bimbo whose proud owner, Attorney Malcolm Millard, has his offices near by.

Three days a week when his master is in his office, Bimbo travels the three miles from his home in the Highlands, prowls the neighborhood of Sixth and Dolores until he spots the family car.

Once Malcolm forgot and left only a wing window slightly ajar. Bimbo was not too kind to that car's paint job in his forthright manner of trying to "force" that window open enough to allow his entry.

parents moved West to live with him.

During World War I, Mr. James was a ship draftsman at the Puget Sound Navy Yard. He returned at the end of the war to study sculpture at the California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco and with Jo Mora in Carmel. He assisted Mr. Mora by modeling one of two sphinxes which are placed in front of the Scottish Rite Temple in San Jose.

A copy of a bust by Austin James of Robert A. Millikan, Nobel Prize winner and former head of the California Institute of Technology, is displayed at the Sorbonne in Paris. The same bust was exhibited in the Paris Salon. Mr. James' work is also in the Carar Library in Chicago, the Old Customs House in Monterey and the Harrison Memorial Library.

He was married in 1926 to Eleanor Taylor James, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. George Taylor of Carmel and Pasadena. This marriage later ended in divorce. Mr. James lived in Pasadena until 1938, then returned here. During World War II, from 1943-45, he served many hours with the U.S. Air Forces 1V Fighter Command station at Cypress Point.

After coming to Carmel he built sets and acted in Forest Theater productions. He also assisted the late Perry Newberry with the design and construction of several chalk rock homes in this area. The Sunset was the only grade school, and there were still wounds from the battle that had separated Carmel from the Monterey high school district in 1939 so that Carmel could have its own high school.

The basic structures were completed and the high school in operation when the 1941 bond issue was passed.

Ocean Avenue is open again after several days of closure for a surfacing job, and the happiest people in town are the dwellers on East Eighth, Torres south of Ocean and Mountain View, which carried a large share of the in and out of town traffic usually allotted to Ocean Avenue.

These quiet, residential streets, narrow, tree-lined were not designed for such a load.

The planning commission and city council perhaps now can understand more fully the hubbub that arose last year at the hearings on a proposal to close Ocean Avenue for a mall. The Ocean Avenue merchants were not alone in their protests; they had the support of home owners who "could imagine what it would be like." They no longer have to imagine.

The library is suffering from crowding of both books and people. The library board asked the city council to meet with them to talk over what could be done. City council at its last meeting delegated Mayor Frank Putnam and City Clerk Larry Rose to negotiate a get-together date, which has now been arranged. On May 10, at 4:30, the library board will hold its regular monthly meeting at the city council chambers instead of as usual in the library basement, and the council will join them later.

The city council hopes for a fair and balmy Tuesday evening since an agenda of only three items allows time for a leisurely tree tour.

The Items: Pine removal request by Crescent Construction Company for access to property at Fifth between Santa Rita and Guadalupe; Lillian Catalan has asked for an additional driveway for her motel on San Carlos, northwest of Fifth; and there is a request for sidewalk and parkway landscaping at Vagabond House, south east corner of Dolores and Fourth.

Tour starts from city hall at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon, public invited.

The Monterey Peninsula Area Planning Commission will meet this evening, 8:00 o'clock, in the City of Monterey council chambers.

Father Dan Dolan's Work Featured in Maryknoll May Issue

The May issue of Maryknoll, magazine of the Catholic Foreign Missionary Society of America, contains an article on the work of a Maryknoll missionary, the Reverend Daniel D. Dolan, M.M., son of Mrs. Charles M. Dolan of Carmel.

Father Dolan lives in the homes of the aboriginal Tayalar inhabitants in isolated Big Snow Valley in the mountains of central Formosa. He supplies medical help, teaches farming, and has built an irrigation tunnel. He is now trying to obtain rural electrification from the government.

He is a graduate of the University of Illinois and was a Navy fighter pilot in the Pacific during World War II.

The Maryknoll article is illustrated by color photographs of the life of the Tayalar taken by Father Dolan.

Here's how we manage four vacations every month.

"We used to have the world's duller weekends. Now every weekend is a vacation for the whole family. The difference is a symphony of teak, brass and canvas—our spanking new boat! She's part of the Big Plan which Kathryn and I started several years ago. Another part of it is the house we enjoy so. And the trust fund for putting our boys through college.

"Every time we step aboard our new boat I'm glad we put our Big Plan to work."

The plan didn't seem so big at the time. In fact, it began with an unpleasant situation. Roy and Kathryn were living from one paycheck to the next. They came to Crocker-Anglo for a loan to pay off a stack of bills.

After the loan was repaid, they decided to keep right on making the monthly payments—but to themselves, in care of a C-A savings account.

Thanks to these savings, they were ready when Roy was offered the option to buy a little stock in the company where he worked.

As the company grew, the stock increased in value. Roy talked it over with Crocker-Anglo's investment department and decided to buy even more.

He was preparing for the next step in the Big Plan. Sooner or later, he'd have the chance to buy a branch-office franchise from his company. The chance came.

Crocker-Anglo is still part of that Big Plan. Just the other day Roy called our international banking people for advice about some export business he's been offered.

Helping people use their bank for all it's worth is the most satisfying part of our job. It has a way of turning small plans into Big ones...and these into sweet success. Try us.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Not long ago a periodical for retired persons came to us and included therein was a bibliography of good books on retirement and hobbies. Suffering from Librarian's disease, known as check-it-itis, we checked the list and found we had a great many of the books and we also had a lot more which were omitted from the list. So here we go to talk about books on retirement and on the things you can learn to make life even pleasanter for you. We are going to post the full list on our bulletin board. We always wonder if such a good deed will accomplish anything but giving us a warm glow. The only way it can be of any value is if you look it over and use some of the books. —J

You really should know a little about the classification because it makes such a difference. Under 179 we have several books, and the number 179 has to do with the mental side of retirement, how to decide as to whether or not you are ready to retire. Under that number we have George Preston's Should I Retire? Gifford Hart's Retirement, and How to Retire and Enjoy It by Ray Giles, and several others.

The number 301.43 is where we put books which take up the study of retirement from the standpoint of sociology, of special interest groups or special age groups. There we have a group of books and among them are three by Wilma Donahue which are entitled Free Time, The New Frontiers of Aging, and Planning for the Older Years. We have other books classed in number 374 which is adult education, and under 618.97 which is gerontology and geriatrics, the scientific study of old age and the treatment of its diseases.

There are groups of books which discuss hobbies in general or a whole collection of hobbies and among them are Handicrafts and Hobbies for Pleasure and Profit by Ickis, Guide to Modern Hobbies by Newgold, and Hobbycraft for Everyone by Wagner. Those are all classed in the 790's which is the number for recreation and 745.5 which is handicrafts.

Then we have a lot of books for beginners in the various crafts. Weaving, leatherwork, jewelry making, ceramics, and painting in both oils and water colors. The books we included in this list are not for the finished craftsman; they are all for the starters. We have other books for the ones who have been in these various fields and know their way about. If none of these invite you, tell your problem to the librarian at the desk and ask her to help you. She will be happy to do so, especially happy if you time your visit to a place in the day when she isn't so busy as to be almost crazy. That can happen, too, we know.

But first consult the list on the bulletin board and do a little browsing. That is really the best way. The charms of a craft are not visible on a catalog card, helpful as that card can be.

She was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Mr. Barth was born on July 24, 1859, in a log cabin near Brighton, Illinois, the son of pioneer parents who had emigrated to the prairies from Germany. After grad-

Immediately after graduating from college, Otto Barth began teaching in Illinois. Following his marriage in 1895 to Emma Louise Draper of Luray, Missouri, he came with his wife to live in California. For the next 45 years he organized and administered high schools in various parts of the state. He was last principal, for nearly ten years, of Linden High School in the San Joaquin Valley.

After he retired, Mr. Barth visited every state in the union, also Canada. Mrs. Barth accompanied him on these trips until her death in 1943.

On his one hundredth birthday in 1959, Mr. Barth was honored by former students, colleagues and friends at an open house in his Carmel home. The Carmel Masonic Lodge also honored him at a special meeting at which a gold plaque was presented to him on behalf of Monrovia Lodge which he joined in 1896.

In addition to his daughter in Carmel, Mr. Barth is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Jessie T. Ruinoff of Bellflower; and two granddaughters, Mrs. Frances Evans of Downey and Miss Eleanor Wolfe of Mill Valley.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The third Musica Viva concert of the Institute of Theatre Arts given at the Steinbeck Theatre last Sunday was a distinct success and drew a considerably enlarged audience. True, a harp recital is not common and rarely can one hear as sensitive a player as Joel Andrews who has appeared with many symphony orchestras, is at present harpist of the Oakland Symphony Orchestra, and when at Texas University founded the only harp festival in the country. Nevertheless, it was evident this series of concerts was being appreciated, while improved stage setting and lighting helped.

The program covered an exceptionally interesting group of pieces from a 16th Century Pavane to Chanson de la Nuit and La Desirade by the contemporary concert harpist, Salzedo, which was all a musicianly, inspiring and brilliant performance with the most sensitive modulations and clarity. A string ensemble from the Oakland Orchestra and the San Francisco Conservatory also took part in a work by Handel that added much interest. This included concertmaster Kent Rose and Eiko Yoshizato, violinists, who have both formerly played with our own symphony orchestra; Aaron Shapiro, violinist, and Baruch Klein, cello. All acquitted themselves well and were recalled with Andrews. The three of these concerts already given should be an incentive for continued greater attendance from the musical people of the Peninsula.

The artist next Sunday is Timothy Thompson, pianist, who was this year's winner of the S. F. Symphony Society's award. At a later concert Baruch Klein, the cellist, will be heard in recital. Many of us met the artists on Sunday at a tea given for them by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Blair in their home in Carmel Highlands.

Final concert of the 1960-61 season by the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra will be presented May 16 in Sunset Auditorium.

Conductor Ronald Ondrejka, who returned last week from a successful guest-conducting engagement in the East, has prepared a varied and colorful program for the season finale.

Major work on the program will be the rarely-performed Vespera Solennes de Confessore by Mozart. Featured with the orchestra will be the fifty-voice Hartnell Community Chorus and a quartet of vocal soloists.

The concert will open with Symphony No. 103 in E Flat (subtitled The Drum Roll Symphony) by Haydn. Completing the program will be excerpts from the ballet suite, Romeo and Juliet, by Prokofiev, and the light-hearted Overture to The Barber of Seville by Rossini.

With the May concert, the Monterey County Symphony completes its twenty-first concert series on the Monterey Peninsula, and its first season under a permanent resident conductor.

The Spring Opera in San Francisco opens May 2 with Gounod's Romeo and Juliet, continues May 5 with La Boheme in which the young Negro tenor who won the Metropolitan's auditions this year will appear. Martha, in English, comes on May 9. La Traviata May 13 and a new production of Mozart's Magic Flute, on May 16. Season ends on May 19 with Carmen.

Fortunately, adjustments have been made with the American Guild of Musical Artists that will now allow for continuance of the regular San Francisco Opera Association's season in the fall.

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra will use four of its personnel in the concert on May 6 for soloists in Schumann's Concerto for four horns; and also Ludwig Altman, organist of our annual Bach Festival, is featured on the same concert in Saint Saens' Symphony in G Minor that was commissioned by the Philharmonic Society of London and inscribed to the memory of Liszt.

Law Of Love, Brings Freedom, Lecturer Says

Divine Love in action is the vital spark of life, Gertrude E. Velguth of Flint, Michigan, told a large audience here April 25.

Speaking in the church edifice Monte Verde near 6th under the auspices of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel, Mrs. Velguth said that there is an ever-operative law of divine Love which brings freedom from fear, hate, sin, sickness, and all discord.

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, she was introduced by Mr. Arthur Porter, Second Reader.

In her address on the subject Love, the Vital Part of Christian Science, the lecturer declared that "Love is definitely responsible for the vigor, the warmth, the vitality, the enthusiasm which characterize the daily lives of those who understand and demonstrate Christian Science."

Acquaintance with and obedience to the law of Love is essential, she said, to the annihilation of devitalizing conditions such as arrogance, pride, indifference, hate, and cold disdain.

"In a world where mankind is inclined to listen to the negative suggestions of mortal mind," she declared, "selfishness, sensuousness, greed, rivalry, and lust for personal power would claim to affect or dominate the lives of its people. Constant recourse to divine Mind is required to keep Love in action in our lives."

It is through scientific prayer and close study of the deep significance of the Scriptures that one maintains a conscious, constant relationship to God, divine Mind, the lecturer maintained.

"A spiritual understanding of God, good, and of His changeless law of harmony and peace," she said, "discloses the powerlessness, even the nothingness, of evil. . . Divine Mind is entirely constructive and never destructive. It is the one infallible creator, the source of infinite health, unlimited abundance, and immortal life."

MAY FELLOWSHIP DAY

United Church Women of the Monterey Peninsula will meet at the Fort Ord Chapel on May 5 for their annual spring fellowship program, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. A panel discussion on alcoholism with its effect on mental health, broken homes, and family life forms the morning program, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray serving as moderator. The afternoon meeting will present the printed program sent out by the national U.C.W.

Women's organizations of the Protestant churches on the peninsula are affiliated with United Church Women in carrying on welfare and mission work throughout the world. Help for families of migrant workers in agriculture is especially emphasized, as California is one of the areas with a high concentration of summer migrant workers.

Many college and older high school students volunteer to conduct recreational and educational summer programs under experienced supervision for children in the migrant camps. Health kits are being prepared by women's organizations for such children to be turned in at the May 5 meeting. A kit should be a plastic bag containing wash cloth, soap, small mirror, comb, tooth brush and

Mrs. Lundblad

Mrs. Jeannette Ladd Lundblad died on Saturday in her home at Guadalupe Street and First Avenue after a long illness. She was the mother of Edwin L. Lundblad of Carmel and had made her home here for the past 12 years.

Mrs. Lundblad was born in Merced on August 21, 1886. She lived in Stockton before coming to Carmel. Before she retired, she was an educational assistant in the visual aids field for the Stockton school system. She was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church in Carmel. Her husband, Paul Andrew Lundblad, died in 1933.

In addition to her son in Carmel, paste or powder, and other small articles a boy or girl might benefit from.

The women will be guests of Fort Ord at the luncheon for which reservations must be made through their church societies by May 1. A large attendance is desired. Mrs. Robert Aversano, wife of Fort Ord Chaplain Aversano, and member of St. Mary's by the Sea, Episcopal Church in Pacific Grove, is president of the peninsula United Church Women. To reach the chapel drive out Fremont Street to the Broadway traffic light, turn right and drive on to the chapel.

Arena Blanca New Officers

Olivia Young, president, and Blanche Moke, president-elect, will represent the Arena Blanca Chapter at the annual convention of the California Federation of Chaparral Poets to be held May 20 in Los Angeles.

Other new officers, elected April 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wild, include Hascal Stewart, first vice-president, Catherine Ramsey, second vice-president, and Bernice Minarik, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Young, judge of the March poetry contest, awarded first place to Arthur Wild, second to Mrs. Moke, third to Lois Wilson, and honorable mention to Jerry Wild. In the April contest, a popular vote resulted in a three-way tie for first place, Robert Bunney, Mrs. Ramsey and Mrs. Moke sharing honors. A poem by Mrs. Young won second prize in the annual contest sponsored by the Poets' Study Club of Terre Haute, Indiana.

Mrs. Minarik discussed Robert Frost's theory of poetry as presented in Reginald L. Cook's book, The Dimensions of Robert Frost.

Arena Blanca's annual dinner will be May 25 at the Methodist Church in Pacific Grove. Mrs. Ramsey, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Wild are in charge of reservations. Frances Gordon and Mrs. Young will serve on the decorating committee.

Dinner Honors Roger Kent

The Monterey Peninsula Democratic Club will honor Roger Kent, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, at a dinner tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stewart in Carmel Highlands. Cocktails will be served at 6:00 o'clock, dinner at 7:30. A small fee will be charged.

John Stone, Charter Speaker

John Stone of Los Angeles, the American Bar Association's liaison representative to the motion picture and television industries, will give the principal address at the Monterey County Legal Secretaries Association's charter installation banquet to be held at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club on Saturday.

One of the more pleasant aspects of Mr. Stone's liaison duties is keeping an eye on the lovely Barbara Hale's portrayal of the role of a legal secretary in the Perry Mason TV series. Miss Hale will be installing Marshall for the officers-elect of the new association.

President-elect, Miss E. Josephine Fife, will be presented the group's charter in Legal Secretaries, Inc. of California by Mrs. Eula Mae Jett of Long Beach, founder of the organization in California. The charter in National Association of Legal Secretaries will be presented by Mrs. Louise B. Cord of San Diego, the charter past president of the National Association of Legal Secretaries.

After berthing overnight at Belvedere, Skipper Jon and his crew sailed about San Francisco Bay, then moored the boat in Alameda for spring refurbishing before returning to Carmel by train and car on Sunday.

Those who sailed as crew were Louis Conlan, Herb Vial, Doug Baird, Harvey Kilpatrick and Jon Raggett.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Man's God-given freedom from sin and temptation will be explained at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Everlasting Punishment" is the Golden Text from Ezekiel (18): "Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read (p. 315): "The likeness of God we lose sight of through sin, which beclouds the spiritual sense of Truth; and we realize this likeness only when we subdue sin and prove man's heritage, the liberty of the sons of God."

A selection to be read from the Bible states: "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure. Do all things without murmurings and disputings: That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world" (Philippians 2).

Louise Clark

Miss Louise Clark, an employee in the Carmel office of the California Water and Telephone Company, died yesterday afternoon shortly after being taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital Annex in the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department.

The ambulance crew answered the call to Miss Clark's home at Dolores Street and Thirteenth Avenue at 1:24 o'clock. County Coroner Christopher Hill Jr. stated this morning that an autopsy will determine the exact cause of death, presumed to be from natural causes.

Miss Clark had just returned from two weeks' vacation in Mexico. She had been a Carmel resident since 1939 when her parents, the late Colonel Francis W. Clark and Mrs. Clark came here to live following Colonel Clark's retirement. Later, during World War II, he was recalled to active Army duty as commandant of the Presidio of Monterey. Colonel Clark died in 1948 and Mrs. Clark in 1959.

Survivors include a distant relative, John Melville of Carmel, and several other relatives living in Southern California and the East.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Miss Clark may do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Cancer Research Society.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

SUNDAY EVENING CONCERT

The Hartnell College Madrigal Singers will give a concert at Robert Louis Stevenson School on Sunday evening, open to the public without charge. They have also sung in festivals in San Francisco, Modesto, Salinas, and Carmel in the Carmel Chamber Music Society Series sponsored by Gilbert Boyer.

Assisting the Madrigal Singers will be Dale Ramey, guitarist. Mr. Ramey is a former Hartnell College music student who is continuing his work in San Francisco.

The program begins at 8:00 o'clock.

SEEK AUDIENCE

*A crow is not a good companion,
Neither is the magpie.
The dove is too gentle,
The eagle too fierce.
Seek audience with the common sparrow.
Watch her bright head move, and tilt
For better hearing of your call.*

—ALTA MARGARET SHEPHERD

GREEN WORDS

*The guardian of bone undid this skeleton,
The river sang to stone—and there the water-gotten words
Formed into light aslant the organ trees.
The sterile page of winter left no wound
Where the new leaves now closely span the days,
And shadows are the envied place of cows;
(Their bells of noon hung in the shade)
But in the river ways no word is lost,
There is a constant telling, aspen-thin—
(The Indian knew this singing water course).
Though Indian syllables are swept away—
Still they are caught in aspen sounds of green.*

—ORIAN DEPLEDGE

ONE THRUSH CALL

*A single note, and then no call,
No snatch of song; though I heard all
The thrush's swirling melody
In that one note, the memory
Was ghost of song, I wanted more.
I longed to hear those flute-notes pour
Like wind-blown sparks which swiftly fly
Up stairs of heaven to star the sky.
But it was noon when birds are still.
When twilight comes, the thrush will fill
The dusk with praise, candles will burn
For evensong, we will return.*

—HELEN G. JEFFERSON

INGRATITUDE

*Alas, we take this life too much for granted!
No hymns of praise rise daily from our lips
In what cold granite are our hearts implanted
That though we live, the joy of living slips.
We live! Alight in this one shining moment
Uniquely ours from all eternity!
For us the ages suffered joy or torment
Yet here we breathe miraculous and free!
For us the earth is tabled rich in season
Its flowing acres ripe with rhythmic grain
We are endowed with gifts beyond all reason
And yet how scarcely grateful we remain!
From day to day we offer no reply
And all this wondrous life is drifting by.*

Wayfarer Membership Meets Monday To Act On Church Affiliation

A special meeting of all members of the Church of the Wayfarer has been set for Monday evening, 7:30 o'clock, according to Hal C. Green, president of the executive-committee of the congregation. Three matters will be considered.

First is what action members wish to take concerning a letter and proposal, sent without the consent of the membership, by Herbert W. Neale, superintendent of the Methodist Church, and Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer, to all members, and which suggests that the Church of the Wayfarer, now an interdenominational community church, be reorganized into a Methodist Church.

Secondly, the membership will consider the future relationship of Dr. Gray to the Church of the Wayfarer. Third consideration will be any proposal to implement action on the above two items.

The letter from Mr. Neale and Dr. Gray calls for "an Annual Church Conference of the Church of the Wayfarer (a Methodist Church) to meet at 7:30 o'clock on May 4."

All members of the church, 18 years of age or older, are asked to attend the May 4 meeting in the letter, which also says the agenda will include the election of necessary officers and committees.

The letter from the Methodist Church also states "Since there is no Nominating Committee in existence, the District Superintendent has requested the pastor to present nominations for each of the positions to be filled. Ample opportunity will be given for nominations from the floor."

The original property, two lots, was presented by Carmel developer Frank Devendorf. The deed for the land states that the property is "in trust for the use and benefit of the ministry and membership of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America, subject to the discipline, usage and ministerial appointments of such church. . . and if sold, proceeds shall be disposed of and used in accordance with the provisions of said discipline," as quoted in the Methodist Church letter.

On January 16, 1961, the Wayfarer membership voted to be "an independent Protestant Community Church, with the inherent right of self determination, but affiliated at all times with some Protestant denomination," a letter to the membership from Mr. Green points out.

For the past 25 years the Church of the Wayfarer has conducted its affairs as an interdenominational community church under a constitution and by-laws adopted by the membership. Membership has increased from a small number to over 600 persons; physical assets of the church have risen from a few thousand dollars valuation to $400,000, a statement accompanying Mr. Green's letter declares.

Since the latter part of 1959, the Methodist Church has attempted to take control of the church, its membership and assets. The membership has declared its intention to remain an independent community church, the statement continues.

Monday's meeting has been called by Mr. Green to ascertain the stand of the membership on the letter from Mr. Neale and Dr. Gray, calling for reorganization of the Church of the Wayfarer as a Methodist Church, considered arbitrary action by some of the membership, Green's statement ends.

a piece of property to be zoned P-2."

Mrs. Josselyn maintained all natural growth at the Forest Theater should be preserved. "It is as important as the stage itself."

Mr. Blanks suggested that the flower area be set aside as a preserve if the rest of the property were zoned for recreational use. At present the area is protected from any human intrusion.

Mr. Wilcox moved for P-2 recreational zoning with a precise plan of the site to preserve the flowers. Mr. Smith seconded the motion which passed by a majority of one vote.

Commissioners recommended P-1 natural park zoning for a small piece of city property at Forest Road and Crespi Lane; P-2 recreation park use for Devendorf Plaza. These recommendations are a step towards preparation of a commission-initiated ordinance to govern use of city property.

Second split in the commission yesterday afternoon came over approval of a trailer-type vehicle as acceptable landscaping of a small plot of ground on Dolores Street. Landscaping plans showed a small shoeshine stand in the vehicle, Henley's Hutch, with landscaping along the front of the strip, now blacktopped.

Commissioners were concerned about whether Henley's Hutch was a legal use of the property. They did not want to set a precedent for other such vehicles in the business zone.

They finally decided that Henley's Hutch was acceptable landscaping if the use terminated with the present lessee and the administrative staff found the use was compatible with the zoning law. Maurice Hanssens and P. C. Lee, owners of the post office site, requested approval of Henley's Hutch, to be used by Louis Henley, who formerly occupied an Ocean Avenue location destroyed for construction of the new Doud Building.

Other action yesterday afternoon included granting use permits for nine glass-enclosed gas-jet standard lamps at Carmel Plaza; establishing a building site requested by Bernice T. Hendricks at Santa Lucia and Scenic and two building sites for Lee Gottfried off Flanders Way.

Remodeling permits were allowed: Robert Little and Dexter Whitcomb for turning a lobby into a cocktail lounge as an addition to a restaurant at San Carlos and Fifth; interior offices on second floor of Carmel Plaza; windows and doors at Leidig's service station at San Carlos and Seventh; interior of Mark Thomas' Hearthstone restaurant; new foundation for the Lafrenz-Samson Building housing Blum's restaurant.

Time extensions for proposed building were given Carmel Plaza garage; J. M. Scales' apartment house at Lincoln and Eighth and L. F. Jorgenson for a new building on north side of Ocean between Dolores and Lincoln.

Charles Catalan's revised plans for a motel at San Carlos and Fourth were approved. A sign for The Cole Bin, customized crafted cravats, in Pantiles Court on Dolores Street was not granted.

Adult School Adds Interior Decoration, Lip Reading Classes

A course in interior decoration which will consist of lectures, discussion and class projects, will start on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Carmel High School library. Mrs. Edith Owen Dickie, professional member of the National Society of Interior Designers of New York, will be the instructor. She has been in the interior design field for eight years. She has practiced in both commercial and residential fields and has been associated with firms in Santa Rosa and Oakland. At present Mrs. Dickie is a resident of Carmel and is employed by a local firm as interior decorator.

A course in lip reading will start on May 2 with Mrs. Shirley Taylor as instructor. This class will meet from 4:00 to 5:00 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Carmel Foundation Town House, Lincoln and Eighth Avenue. Mrs. Taylor has had several years experience as speech correctionist and teacher of the deaf.

county, state and federal levels to work together effectively in case of a nuclear attack upon this nation.

There will be a simulated attack upon the United States tomorrow. All television and radio stations will go off the air from 1:00 to 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon as part of the exercises. This will be an actual test of the CONELRAD system, and only CONELRAD stations will be allowed to broadcast during this period. CONELRAD will be operating exactly as it would in an emergency—at 640 and 1240 on the standard radio dial. Network stations will carry messages from President Kennedy, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization Director Frank B. Ellis.

Because CONELRAD operates with reduced power, some persons may not be able to hear the broadcast or the reception may be extremely poor. It is requested that

Later, at the Roxbury Latin School before the assembled school, I was no Brownie but Cicero in the Roman Senate attacking Cataline: "O Tempora! O Mores! Senatus haec intellegit; Consul vidit. Haec tamen vivit! Vivit! Immo vero etiam in Senatum venit! . . ."

That I had some histrionic talent must have been evident, for one summer on Cape Cod when some of the vacationers decided to

BBC OFFICIAL TO SPEAK AT MPC

Felix Greene, newscaster and past official of the British Broadcasting Corporation, will lecture May 5, 12 and 19 as the second of two commentators in the Monterey Peninsula College Critique III series.

Following the lead set last January by William Winter in his series of talks on The United States and the USSR, Greene will discuss The United States and Red China on all three occasions. The lectures will be delivered in the MPC library lecture hall at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. The public is invited by the evening division, sponsor, to attend without charge.

PUBLIC FORUM MAY 2 ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

A public forum on capital punishment will be held on May 2 in the Monterey Peninsula College Armory, 8:00 o'clock in the evening, sponsored by Californians Against State Executions. Les Gorn of Carmel Highlands, head of the local CASE chapter, will be forum chairman.

Speaking against capital punishment will be the Reverend Richard Byfield, a canon of Grace Cathedral in San Francisco; Professor Richard Drinnon of the University of California; and Francis Heisler, Carmel attorney.

Defenders of capital punishment will be William Weissich, district attorney in Marin County; George Tomlinson, former chairman of the Monterey County Republican Central Committee; and John Shephard, Monterey attorney.

LINDA YOUNG

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLAR

Linda Young, a senior at Carmel High School, has been named a General Tire Foundation Merit Scholar by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. She plans to enroll in September at Carleton College in Minnesota to study oceanography.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. David A. Young. Mr. Young is director of the long-range planning division of Aerojet-General Corporation. He brought his family to live here a year and a half ago.

Linda is among 350 students from among 10,000 finalists in the United States to be named recipients of four-year Merit scholarships, sponsored by business corporations and foundations, in a national competition which began in March, 1960.

put on a play and chose, The Shakespeare Water Cure, a pot-pourri of Shakespeare, to be done by a male cast. I was asked to take the part of Juliet. Unfortunately the wigs were late in coming, but "the play must go on" and I brought down the house when I appeared with close-clipped hair, in a low-neck gown and other feminine fixtures and declaimed sweetly and in falsetto, "Romeo, Romeo? Why art thou Romeo? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet. . . ." Later, decked out in a wig with long flowing curls, I could mince along with less embarrassment and earned considerable applause. This success revived my interest in drama.

Teaching years offered little chance for acting on the stage, for teachers have to be careful of the roles in which they are cast; they cannot be too ardent lovers, drunkards, crooks, gamblers, or gay birds of any kind. In fact little is left for them, unless it is the part of a crippled aging veteran soliloquizing before the fire on the degeneration of the times.

Later, in Santa Barbara, after I had resigned my position as Dean of Men and Head of the History Department at the Santa Barbara State College, I was asked to serve on the Board of Directors of the Community Theater, was also given the direction of the publicity and was made a member of the Play Reading Committee. Soon afterwards I made my next stage appearance; an occasion almost as embarrassing as in my role as Brownie. The play was King Solomon, an extravaganza with a cast of over a hundred depicting the arrival of the Queen of Sheba to the Court of King Solomon. It was produced by Albert Herter, (the father of Christian Herter, our former Secretary of State). The play was written in blank verse by Ira Remsen, well known in Carmel.

At the dress rehearsal it was realized that a few rabbits were needed to balance the scene depicting the arrival of the Queen of Sheba at the court of Solomon. I happened to be back-stage (I had charge of the publicity) and was asked to be one of the three to fill that need. We were quickly draped in yellow cheese-cloth and instructed to remove our trousers so that our robes would hang well. I just turned mine up a little as the stage was cold, and we took our places. Three raps; the curtain slowly rose. A giggle swept through the audience, increasing to a roar; the rabbits were draped in more substantial material; as the view of their boney legs, evident through the cheesecloth, did not add to the gravity and charm of the court scene.
